Organisation Name: Westmorland & Furness Council (District or county councillor)

Comment text:

Related subject: Appleby & Broughj

This combination was created when Westmorland & Furness came into being; I'm one of two councillors. It works because we get on, but the two components don't have much in common and had no historic links. A single Appleby ward - comprising the two former Eden District Council wards, Appleby and Bongate, would be homogenous and population figures would be appropriate for a one-member ward. The problem is, I guess the knock-on effect of what happens to the scattered surrounds.
