I do not agree with the proposed changes.

Meriden has close links with the other local villages that already form part of a successful working parish council and local government MP.

These proposed changes are just another attempt at pushing Meriden into ties with areas it has nothing in common with. It is also an attempt at forcing the “village” to expand beyond its means with people from far outside the area being moved into it in new build homes that are social and not affordable for young SINGLE people - devaluing the properties already in situ and trying to forcibly change the voting demographic/history that has been longstanding in the area.
