Related subject: Macclesfield - Tytherington ward

Good evening, I have previously provided comment on the proposals for Macclesfield - Tytherington ward and on the face of things the proposals appeared benign, however having looked into the proposal I can see no benefit to departing from the status quo and fully support the Liberal Democrats proposal to maintain the boundaries as they are with regard to Tytherington ward.

I can honestly say that, having lived in two parts of the ward and been represented by David Edwardes and Emma Gilman (previously Lloyd Roberts) for many years, I have never been so well represented.

Previously (I have only lived in the Macclesfield constituency) the name of my local councillor was unknown and activity by same less so. The councillors for Tytherington are the best advertisement for local democracy you could have and to change, for no good reason, seems totally counter productive (less engagement with local politics can't be the intention, surely?).

In summary, having looked into the proposals presented I can see no reason why the proposal from the Liberal Democrats cannot be taken forward and I would hope that the balance of representations will be taken into consideration when decisions are made.
