Comment text:

Related subject: Langport / Huish Episcopi

Huish Episcopi and Langport are geographically, politically and culturally entirely in each other's pockets. They are not sensibly divisible from each other, and both have requested, and petitioned for, a Community Governance Review with the hoped for outcome that they will be merged. This is currently being undertaken by Somerset Council with a decision by next December. What ever the outcome these two (or hopefully one) parishe(s) should be represented by the same Somerset Councillor. To do different would be to introduce disunity when so many people have been working so hard for a more inclusive and unified future.
