It is clear from the data on electorate that if the number of councillors remains the same there must be some reallocation of ward boundaries which will reduce the number of councillors representing rural wards to give a more equitable number for the urban areas.

This is an opportunity to restore some traditional links such as that between the North and South Leverton.

However, the recent parliamentary boundary changes have already cut off the eastern part of Bassetlaw District from Bassetlaw Parliamentary Constituency. This appears to be based on the current ward structure. It will be important to ensure that the new wards do not cross parliamentary boundaries. Otherwise confusion will ensue.
