Related subject: Bootle Parish

Bootle is recognised as a service centre for the area by LDNPA. It looks more to Millom for the services it does not have than northwards although the health provision is split with its surgery being linked to Seascale. With the decline in Barrow shopping centre reliance on Whitehaven has increased. Railway connections north and south are reasonable if a little unreliable as part of the national problem . Road links are lengthy and no bus links and thus car reliance is important. A thriving community which relies on work opportunities which are upto 25miles away. Higher than average age demographic results as people move away to be nearer their employment.
