I live in Southbourne but have been lumped in with Littledown and iford in the recent election I didn't see one candidate any hustings so I knew views on the candidates or knew what they are planning to do for my area they are now representing Candidates should make it clear what they are standing for In addition the number of people voting is a disgrace 29% of the population came out to vote so 71 % of the population didn't bother its not good enough more should be done to get voters out to vote.
