I do believe Sheffield has too many councillors, some of the wards, mine for instance (Walkley) could be merged with crookes and Crosspool. Manor Castle and Park/Arbourthourne could go together. Each ward has developed significantly since the wards were last changed this now leads to some wards having many more people than others but all still have the same number of councillors. The Sheffield Local Plan will only add to this and this needs to be considered when changing the wards.
